A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Warren Everett

As part of a recent strategic planning exercise, a survey was sent out to the membership seeking input on the Society's activities. One result of the survey was that a review of our activities was likely in order. The Sir John A dinner was one that generated much interest.

Over the years attendance at the dinner has gradually decreased. A number of issues likely play a role, such as cost, fatigue around the topic, and the general decrease in the membership. If we wish to continue with a banquet style dinner, the cost at RMC is very competitive and little relief could be expected in that area. However, of these three, and there are likely more, the continuing theme of Sir John A talks seems, at least anecdotally, to be a factor. Discussions at the Council table about expanding the topic to consider talks about other Prime Ministers, such as Alexander Mackenzie, Canada's second Prime Minister, were deliberated. In view of this, a new survey on the dinner is included in this issue. Please take the time to respond. Membership feedback is critical to our success.

The programme of speakers proposed for the balance of this year and the beginning of next year promises to be interesting. However, I'm not entirely sure that the Society is providing a broad enough range in these topics. The strategic study seemed to indicate a need to widen our topics. Our last two speakers spoke about Black History in Kingston, and I found these refreshing. Sustaining a varied list of speakers takes considerable effort and in this regard my thanks to Marc Shaw, our Programme Chair. Any suggestions on speakers will be warmly received.

KHS MEETINGS take place at 7:30 pm on the third Wednesday of the month, September to May, except in December, when the meeting takes the form of an awards ceremony and gala, and is held at a different time and location. Until further notice, meetings will be at the Seniors Centre, 56 Francis Street.

At regular meetings refreshments are available; a small donation is appreciated.

Two annual events are held celebrating Canada's First Prime Minister, Sir John A. Macdonald (1815—1891): a formal dinner on the Saturday closest to January 11th honouring his birth, and a service on June 6th at the Cataragui Cemetery National Historic Site commemorating his death.

SIR JOHN A. NOT GUILTY OF CRIMES AGAINST HUMANITY was the decision of The Honourable Ian Binnie, C.C., Q.C., Judge, at the mock trial performed at the Isabel Bader Centre for the Performing Arts 16 March, presented in collaboration with Queen's Faculty of Arts and Science as part of the Isabel Human Rights Arts Festival 2018. It was staged for the CBC program Ideas, hosted by Paul Kennedy, to be aired in April.

Prosecuting Attorney Jean Teillet and Defence Lawyer Frank Addario with witnesses for the defence Sir John A. Macdonald and Patrice Dutil on video, the case was argued, before a well-filled house, that the prime minister was responsible for the ill treatment of the indigenous peoples in Canada in the Red River area in the 1890's. While cleared of criminal culpability, Sir John did not escape censure. To listen to the arguments and to the judge's opinion, tune in to the Ideas* program 11 April 2018.

KINGSTON REGIONAL HERITAGE FAIR

It is that time of year again! The Kingston Regional Heritage Fair Committee is hard at work planning for Heritage Fair 2018, and we would appreciate your support.

Kingston Regional Heritage Fair 2018 will be held on Thursday May 10, 2018 at Duncan MacArthur Hall, Queen's University. The schedule for the day will run similarly to last year, with students arriving to be registered at 8am, and judging sessions running from 9:30am-2:45pm (lunch at 11:30am). This will be followed by the specialty judging and award selection, and then finally our recognition assembly at 3pm.

As usual, there are volunteer opportunities for Morning, Afternoon, and All Day positions (with All Day volunteers receiving a Free Lunch!)

If you are interested in signing up as a volunteer, please register:

City invites Kingstonians to become City Hall tour guides.

Ryan J. Leary, RPP, MCIP, CAHP Senior Planner, Heritage Planning, Building & Licensing Services

The City of Kingston is seeking history enthusiasts to help share the many fascinating stories of Kingston City Hall as City Hall tour guides.

“If you love the city’s culture and heritage and love and enjoy public presentation, we encourage you to apply to become a City Hall ambassador,” says Jennifer Campbell, manager of cultural heritage. “As a tour guide, you will have the opportunity to share the histories behind the artifacts, portraits and architecture within this National Historic Site.”

We are seeking candidates fluent in another language including French and Chinese. Full training will be offered to all new tour guides. Tour guides volunteer from May to October, with flexible weekday shifts.

All interested in being a City Hall tour guide are asked to complete an application. Applications are available at the reception desk in the Heritage Resource Centre (HRC) at City Hall or by contacting bpoirier@cityofkingston.ca.

Please return your application in person c/o: Ben Poirier, to HRC reception desk in City Hall or return via email to bpoirier@cityofkingston.ca.

Visit <<http://www.cityofkingston.ca/cityhalltours>> for more information on the tours and the history of Kingston’s City Hall .

March of the Museums!

This year for March Break Murney Tower Museum participated in the March of the Museums!

March of the Museums was a collaborative initiative that used the Military Communications and Electronics Museum site as a programming venue. It was a partnership between Military Communications and Electronics Museums, Frontenac County Schools Museum, Royal Military College of Canada Museum, Murney Tower Museum and the Kingston Association of Museums, Art Galleries and Historic Sites. The premise was to offer a “pop-in” event that was free for families looking for activities during the March Break. Murney Tower and RMC Museum partnered to paint and build a Martello Towers - using Styrofoam cups, Muffin tin liners and craft paint or markers, participants could design and decorate their own Martello tower. The other sites also offered activities such as paper weaving an Easter egg, Morse Code beading and Elenco Snap Circuits© kits and we ended the week by building a fort!

SPEAKER'S CORNER

BY MARC SHAW

On Wednesday, March 21, Rick Neilson spoke to the Society on the life story of Joseph George (1821-1910), relatively unknown today, but in his time clearly a powerhouse of industry in Kingston. Joseph George, an African-American born in Pennsylvania, came here as a young man, and over the course of his long life distinguished himself in any number of enterprises - entrepreneur (from operating grist mills to melodeon manufacturing), inventor, property owner and man-about-town, much remarked on and quoted in the daily press. Rick's research was mostly comprised of a vast array of news stories, notices and advertisements from the daily papers, and what emerges from his prodigious research is an almost year-by-year account of the life of an unusual man who deserves to be better known. Our thanks to Rick for bringing this chapter of Kingston history to life.

The Kingston Scout Museum

Bill Lewis

The Scout museum was created in 2007 to celebrate the centenary of Scouting formed by Baden Powell in 1907.

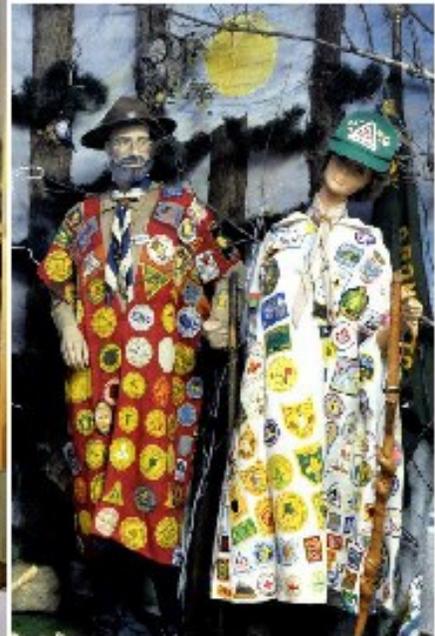

A request for donations brought about a deluge of uniforms, badges flags etc from the 1930's on, with photographs and books dating from the very early 1900's. Articles were selected for displays assembled in the Selby Scout all at the Northern end of MacDonnell St. (Close to the intersection of Princess & Bath.)
